Debbie Youngerman

Hi Deb - It's weird writing not even to someone who's not even here any more. Good luck in the future. Have a great summer! Love Claud

Debbie,
I'm sorry you graduated early. I feel if you had stayed at Poly we could have become close friends. We have several of the same friends. You're a beautiful girl and I highly admire you. Keep in touch.
Love,
Richelle Youngerman

Debbie -

We both have 2 mutual best friends, but I still haven't gotten to know you like I want to. You are one of the sweetest & funniest girls I know. - (Not to mention one of the prettiest.) I really want to get to know you better, (We don't have much time.) but if we don't I'll always remember you fondly. The breakfasts on Friday morning were great.
I'm so glad us 4 girls decided to do that. I like you a lot.

Love,
Kim Stelzner

Your probably wondering why
I wrote your name so much.
I know how to spell it. I'm glad to know you going to R.C. You'll be very close then and I can see you more often and maybe we can get out on the town some night that's up to you my minds already made up! See ya next year
love

Oh, Deb, Debby, Debbie, Deborah! I don't know what to say. I'm so sad. I feel like a trap-door has just been sprung from underneath me. (ISNT THAT THE MOST DRAMATIC LINE YOU'VE EVER HEARD?? YOU BET!) Anyway, I do feel rather empty at the moment because well... um... Oh, damn, you know what you mean to me! We've both been thru so much. You graduated early (as I should have done,) but we stayed as close as ever. Thank-you for the "little gift" before the prom; Hic-cup⁰⁰ you know how much it was appreciated. (HA-HE-HO!) Oh, CRUD! What can I say?! I love you so much. Remember all the talks we had about certain boys and how much we helped each other? (Bla. When I think back on those guys, I feel rather ill.) Remember when we all went dancing and that guy ~~that~~ thought he was such a STUD? (Someoneotta tell him.) YUCK! And remember the CRAB COOKER and those drunk ladies next to us and the man who was yelling at his wife?! I know that I've gotten a little bitter this year because of things that have happened, but it's always comforting to know that you understand. I'm sure I'll snap out of it as soon as I get away from some of the POLY crowd. (And you know who I mean.) I wonder what will be happening this time next year. (SYCRONIZE YOUR WATCHES!!)

I Love you a 1,000 times over, Deb! See you this summer.

Shirley,
I hope this flower is blooming in a new beginning. It's a special flower. You are really a special person. I hope your life is always filled with happiness and will always bring happiness birth [burth] n. [ME. birthe, burde <OE. byrde, gebyrde < beran, to BEAR¹] 1. the act of bringing forth offspring 2. the act of being born; nativity 3. origin or natal background [a Spaniard by birth] 4. good or noble lineage [a man of birth] 5. the beginning of anything [the birth of a nation] 6. an inherited or natural inclination or talent [an actor by birth] 7. [Archaic] a person or thing born or produced — vi., vt. [Dial.] to give birth (to)—give birth to 1. to bring forth (offspring) 2. to be the cause or origin of; originate; create.

Poly is a place of creativity of hands and minds. This creativity is an expression of the idea of birth, and is always in the making. Birth is being aware of everything around you and inside of you. Finding means of expression for these new awarenesses and giving birth to them is a full-time and life-long adventure. Poly students show their awareness of life through participation in sports, R.O.T.C., school and club activities; through creativity in fine arts, industrial arts, and compositions in English classes; through discovery of language, mathematical and scientific theory; and through living each day as it comes. To experience every moment and to live each second is to be renewed, to say, "I am alive," and to experience the joy of continual BIRTH

The Olympics in Munich displayed the world's finest athletic skills but the splendor of the games was marred by the tragic deaths of several members of the Israeli team.

The official ending of the Vietnam War on the 27th of January brought about the return of prisoners of war, an event long-awaited by the American public.

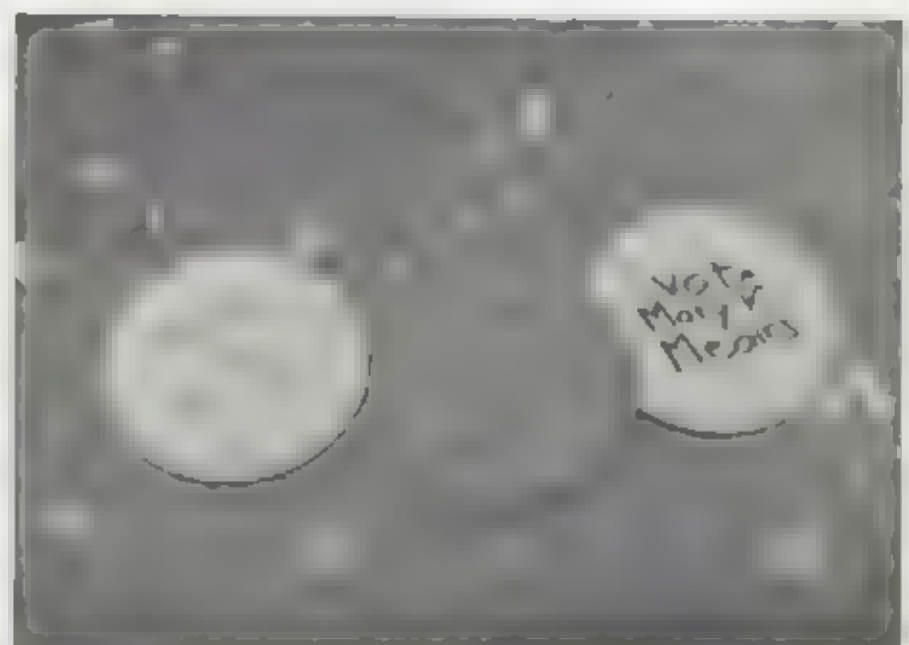

Flags across the nation were lowered for two consecutive months in mourning for Harry S Truman, 33rd President
 Lyndon Baines Johnson, 36th President

Spirited Sideliners

Our "beary" own mascot! Peggy Milson had a few crowd pleasing tricks up her paw that kept people laughing

The behind-the-scenes-Pep-Squad-Lady—Mrs. Gillespie, helped the squad to keep things moving.

Donna Killen as Commissioner of Pep, was invaluable to the Pep Squad. She served each girl and helped to unite them all.

Drilling their way into the hearts of many were Row 1 — Barbara Ward, Mary Fontaine, Fran Bennett, Tina Feldman, Debbie Morris, Claire Mathis (captain). Row 2 — Denli Bayne, Mandy Aguilera, Sherrie Hoover, Joan Shannon, Janne Pourroy (co-captain), Pam Franklin, Kim Nelson, Pam Duncan, Margaret Berry, Debbie Palmer.

Cheery Leaders

These girls each have unique talents. Individually they are Ellen Stewart, Gina Peterson, Joanna Stephenson, Mary Seabrook, Kim Blumweck, Cindy Roberts, and Kim Stinson. But when they're together they are Payson Varsity Cheerleaders.

Pretty Poms

This year's happy-go-lucky group of Poms had a special quality of charm in their smiles and routines. Sitting are Maureen Donald and Karen Riewings. Standing from left to right are Janet Joseph, Mary Knight, Deanne Ferguson, Kathy LeBlond, and Debbie Jones.

Sophomores, Number three

“The morning wind Forever blows, the poem of creation is uninterrupted;
but Few are the ears that hear it.”

Henry David Thoreau

and Trying Hardest

Keeping on the young side, Mrs. Martin is caught with her prized Teddy, the possession all grown-ups envy.

The Schmutz worked hard on their float which contributed much to a successful Homecoming

A New Class Emerges:

Freshmen rallied to sponsor a candy sale. Kathy Belliss, Cathy Letimer, Lisa Ritzau, Erin Bell, Barbara Brown, Kathy Robinson, Denise Smith urge all freshmen to actively participate in class activities.

Frosh Retaliate

Attention sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

We, the freshman class of Poly High, would like to be accepted as the freshman students and not as something extra. We know there are only 174 of us and that we are the first freshman class and that this year is different than the years before at Poly. However, we don't like being called the "slimy freshmen get out of here we don't want you."

Newcomers Pat Hester, Shy Lohr, Gann Reynolds and Jeff Hester in a classroom under the strain of their new found academic burdens.

The delicious "south of the border" food from LA PALOMA, 1795 University is just right if you're a Thompson, or even a Thompson.

ANZA CYCLES 1605 University has motorcycles to interest everybody even Nan Janet, and Terry.

Poly students know where to do their shopping. STATER BROS. markets use propane-powered trucks to deliver produce to their many locations.

"He who is not busy being born is busy dying"
- Bob Dylan

This annual is all about the activities at Poly, and the people who participated in them. We captured a portion of this year's activities, striving to show the variety of students who are intertwined in school life. Our theme of BIRTH was chosen as we saw the involved and creative students who share their lives and individual talents with classmates, teachers, and our entire school.

The concept of BIRTH has been evident this year in yet other aspects, the Little Theater and Fine Arts Complex were put to us for the first time, partly because of another new addition, the freshman class. This has been a productive year, a year of BIRTH. The KOALA staff has worked well all year and now presents their own production. We share many memories, yet these involve still others. We would like to recognize and thank the many helping hands:

Mrs. Doris Bishop, Advisor
Mr. Jack Cannicott, Publisher
Mr. Dick Caudle
and Rosemary, Citrograph Printers
Mr. Ralph Crowell
and Audrey, Harris' Photography Dep't.
Mr. Joe Ficarra, Administrative Advisor

Finally, we would like to reassure you that, yes, we know KOALAS don't hatch from eggs!
